

Story Premise

The Astrum galaxy has been in existence for over 10 billion years. The closest any scientist has been able to determine. The galaxy is home to only one lone planet, the planet Raven, a massive purple bluish planet with millions of different species. The first species to achieve evolutionary dominance was the drecnoid race. A race of 8 foot tall lizard beings that come in all colors. They were responsible for the first civilizations and rules. Next were the anoks a species of microorganisms that crashed landed on the planet Raven 4 billion years ago.

They have evolved into the toughest species that can withstand extreme heat they are tar skinned with a height of about 7 to 8 feet. Drecnoids studied the anoks and weaponized them in the early days to commit assassinations amongst the in fighting between royals of the drecnoid bloodline.

The drecnoids decided to make peace with the anoks and see them as equals. A mass extinction befell the planet bringing the wo races together. They were able to create a genetic offspring of planet life mixed with eaalh species DNA. These offspring became a new food source for the two races. As thousands of years went by the creatures developed into intelligent life. With new technology and species evolving from minerals the drecnoids and anoks decided to bring the creatures into society. Thus making them the third intelligent life to share the planet with.

Able to use photosynthesis to feed they became vital to the planets survival.

Historical Background Information

As technology advanced a thousand years from present day. The three races became set on finally leaving the planet Raven in hopes of an answer to their existence. Through many trials and error they were able to leave the planet soon discovering the biggest mystery in the cosmos. A giant machine orbiting there star Dexium. They've never seen it through telescope nor have they ever picked up any signals. When they boarded the object they found a strange baby creature on board with glowing blue hands. These beings would be known as humans.

Main Character

Max Creo is the biggest celebrity in the Astrum Galaxy hailing from a long line of Skeppers, a descendant of the legendary creationist's family. He is a smooth-talking Casanova; he has a rock star persona with long red hair and hands made of blue nion energy. He is troublemaker that lacks integrity. A vulnerable soul he just wants to know his family's origin and to know what love is. He only grew up knowing his father but never spent time with him, only when they were both working for the Nebula Squadron on mining missions. He never truly had a childhood hence his childlike behavior. The people throughout the galaxy call him Maxi, a variation of his name given to him by his father.

Because of his immature behavior.

He was born 04/28/3003 on the capital planet Raven in Astrum Galaxy.

He is considered just human a Black/or melinated human.

Height: He is 6'2 209 pounds with an athletic build and blue eyes.

Supporting Characters

Dr. Siones

A world renown scientist that experimented with an aging serum and is unable to age. He has been living for 500 years.

He has been the overseer of the creationist family for generations, appointed by the drecnoids Nebula Force. He has kept a watchful eye over the family for generations to make sure they stay on the right track with their gifts. He is of the anok race, very tall tar skinned long black locks. He is in his mid fifties, a very compassionate man that wants the crease to be set free. He is now the wiseman to the young Max Creo.

The Czar Captain Dreyfus

He is the appointed leader of the Nebula Society the organization that controls the Astrum Galaxy. He is of the mixed race half drecnoid, half anok. These are the only two races allowed to breed outside its race. Pleadians are already mixed with anok and drecnoid DNA. The czar comes from the bloodline of the first decnoid male. He is considered to have the thoroughbred gene. He can shapeshift into any race and his team of elite espionage spies The Komanati clan, they keep the galactic economy favoring the drecnoids.

Elionas Mercury

is a childhood friend that Max grew up with in a secret facility until she was taken away to live on The Vulcan Peninsula. Max hasn't seen her since they were 12. She finally attends one of his concerts as adults and they reconnect. She suffers from anxiety and is of the mixed race she has strong telepathic abilities and shapeshifting abilities. She is of royal bloodline but just wants to live a normal life.

Locations

The Vulcan Peninsula

is a steep land mass that is home to the mixed races. They have become the most wealthy on the Planet Raven due to their varied genes. They are considered valuable assets. The Vulcan Peninsula is a giant land mass that sits above the rest of land. The air is cleaner and the white waterfalls have the purest water on the planet. It's able to heal wounds. Gigantic red trees called Ryu Trees bear fruit that fills you up in one serving. This is the only place in the world the mixed races can live. But no humans are allowed.

The Grand Elysium

is a flat planet with a dome over it. made for just entertainment. The planet was created by Max's great great great great great great great great grandfather. As a means for entertaining as much beings as possible live. The planet is home to some of the galaxies biggest celebrities.

Most days it is complete empty unless an event is being held. The planet is solid gold and can only be reached via molecular transportation.

The God Particle

is a mysterious giant structure the size of a planet. Its is transparent at times. It only can be seen when light bounces off of it. The inside has rivers, lands, and floating energy source in the center of the structure that can pull you in and rip you apart if you get to close. Unless you are a human born with non energy. The energy source has yet to be explained. The structure is the home of Max Creo and other galactic officials. It also receives mysterious signals that can't be decoded. Dr Siones visits frequently to study the structure.

Additional World Information

As the many races now coexist, class still plays a huge role in society. Humans are at the bottom of the totem pole and often are mistreated and don't have the same opportunities as the other races. The education system only teaches the dominance of the drecnoids and anoks with the pleadians being peaceful helpers to the plant Raven. Their is no history taught about humans. The humans history in the Astrum Galaxy began with the fist human being found on the God Partcicle. Nothing else has ever been discovered, no one kn its where the humans came from. Humans are also have Beckwith-Wiedemann Syndrome, able to self produce. Over the millennium the three main race have been trying to find the origins of humans and the source of the nion energy some are born with. No religion is practiced in the universe only beliefs in science. A secret organization known as Skeppers worship the humans they see them as foods because of their ability to control the god particle . The group is wanted for such crimes so they remain hidden throughout the galaxy. The Nebula Organization hopes to be able to harness this nion energy. The immortality serum Dr. Siones invented hasn't been replicated since its inception.

Transportation, teleportation, light speed, and cloning, gene splicing, asteroid mining, and planet harvests. Are just a few things the Astrum Galaxy has to offer. The Creo family has never had more than two relatives born at a time, every 30 years another is born.

Story

Synopsis

Max Creo is brilliant creationist able to harness nion energy from his hands to control a mysterious structure that can create planets. The structures creation is still unknown. Being looked after every day since birth by the Nebula Organization. He hopes to one day break free from their clutches and have a life being a rockstar. He is considered a celebrity throughout the Astrum Galaxy. One day he begins having visions of mysterious dark place while on board the god particle and he accidentally destroys a planet he was in the process of creating for the drecoid mafia family The Ramone Family. They threaten to kill him and his estranged father if he doesn't create another one within six weeks. He could easily do that but two things stand in his way, the Nebula Organization is against it and the amount of stardust Nexium and nion energy needed for such a short period time could kill him and blowup the galaxies lone star Drexium. He remembers a old urban legend when he was just a child about a mysterious invisible galaxy called void. The could potentially be home to a mythical black star. The theoretically strongest star in existence. He works with a long lost childhood friend and Dr. Siones to find the legendary galaxy. Dr. Siones also mentioned it could be where humans are from. But the manical Czar of the Nebula Organization will stop at nothing to keep this from happening. Max soon discovers everything he has ever know is a lie and must find a way to rewrite history.

Story Excerpt

Max is getting ready for his morning routine, make some eggs, drink some coffee, and play his key tar as loud as he can aboard the God Particle. But today is different, its a special day for Max as begets ready to embark on the adventure of a lifetime. He rushes to the other side of the massive vessel to wake Dr. Siones. The Dr. is fast asleep snoring sounds of a waterfall flow from his mouth. Max creeps closer to the docs face and hits a loud note from his key tar. The dr. jumps for dear life. ' ' What is wrong with you boy, you could have rum-uttered my hearing. Dr. Siones says as Max laughs.

"Wake up doc today is the day."

The dr nods to Max assuring him he remembers the plan. He holds up two fingers and Max suddenly rushes out of the room. Alarms begin to sound.

"PLEASE EVACUATE IMMEDIATELY." It says repeatedly. The entire vessel is now in panic because they specific incident has never happened before. The people scramble and start to leave, top officials come to find Max and Dr. Siones.

"Did you find them?"

"Nope, maybe they already left, you know Max doesn't need a spaceship or suit." the other guards says. "Right, now lets get the hell outta here before we melt or something, the place gives me the creeps." The vessel eventually becomes quiet and a woman in a lab coat appears in Dr. Siones's room. Its Elionas using her shapeshifter abilities, Dr. Siones becomes visible as he was using an invisibility device and Max crawls from underneath the bed.

"So you just hid under the bed?" asks Elionas.

"Yeah what else was I suppose to do, turn invisible."

For my image

I used the cover for my bible using
Adobe
Express.